

Ancient Monuments in this township

1923 List

KIRKBRIDE AND HOLME EASTWAVER.

Roman:

- (a) Remains (? fort) at Kirkbride church (O.S. iii, 77).
- (b) Altar (C.I.L. vii, 333) ? from Bowness, beads etc. in Mrs. Gillbanks' collection, Clifton, Penrith (N.S. iii, 407).

Churches :

- (a) St. Bridget's, Kirkbride; chancel arch and light in N. wall of nave 12th cent., Roman stones used. Restored 1895-98 (Rev. J. Whiteside O.S. xv, 145). Stone lettered " E[cclesia] Bride "; stoup with lamb and Labarum; porcelain tablet found under floor.
- (b) St. John's, Newton Arlosh, built 1309 with small nave and fortified tower. N. aisle 1844; alterations 1894. Rude dial on E. jamb of door (Lysons, Cumberland, cxcii; J. A. Cory, O.S. ii, 50; J. F. Curwen, N.S. xiii, 113).

Domestic :

- (a) Raby Cote, built from Holme Cultram abbey ruins c. 1600-10 (F. Grainger, N.S. i, 219).
- (b) Ancient barn (Rev. W. Baxter, N.S. xiv, 280).
- (c) Two stoups from High House.

Find:-14th cent. pitcher found 1907, on the marsh (J. C. Varty Smith, N.S. xiii, 122).

See Pastscape for much more detail on these and more entries (25 in total – though there may be some overlap with other townships).