

Ancient Monuments in this township

1923 List

KIRKANDREWS-ON-EDEN

Tumuli ? : three ring-ditches, 5, 7, and 9 yds. diameter, near Janet Hill; urns found (Whellan, 170)

Roman:

- (a) Fort ? at Kirkandrews (Bruce, Handbook to the Wall)
- (b) Roman stones " Kirksteads," S. of Cobble Hall (N.S. v, 210) including altar (C.I.L. vii, 940) now at Lowther Castle.
- (c) Coins of Constantine and Diocletian found 1785, 750 yds. N. of Cobble Hall.
- (d) Vase and denarii of Constantine and Diocletian found 1855 ,300 yds. W.N.W. of Kirksteads.

Mediæval: Kirksteads was perhaps also site of an early mediæval church, from which came carved stones (W. G. Collingwood, N.S. v, 202), the Bow Stone (ibid. and vi, 335) and one or more stone coffins (N.s. v, 207; vi, 292).

Church now destroyed; the 12th cent. chancel-arch was standing early 19th cent. Ancient graveyard. Two 13th cent.graveslabs.

Well of St. Andrew , on the shore at foot of village.

See Pastscape for possible more detail but no entries show for this township.