

Ancient Monuments in this township

1926 List

NATLAND

Hill fort "Castlesteads " on the Helm; double rampart and fosses; hut-circles (W. G. Collingwood, N.S. viii, 108).

Roman fort, at Watercrook; according to Haverfield ALONE (W. G. Collingwood, N.S. viii, 102). Inscribed tombstone and uninscribed altar now in British Museum (o.s. xii, 60).

Church, now St. Mark's: chapel founded 1246 (Farrer, Kendale i, 167) ; rebuilt 1735 and 1825; chancel added 1878.

Canal, See Hincaster

Highway and Natland footbridge repaired 1679 (Q. Sess. records)

See Pastscape for much more detail on these and more entries (35 in total – though there may be some overlap with other townships).