

Ancient Monuments in this township

1923 List

PLUMBLAND

Earthwork :

- (a) "Wardhill " or " Warthole " near Eweclose, D-shaped enclosure, formerly called Roman, nearly obliterated.
- (b) Site of a beacon (Whellan, 365).

Viking Age (a)10th cent. "spiral" cross-fragment;

- (b) part of 10th cent. hogback re-used 13th cent. at the church (Calverley, Crosses, 253).

Church, St. Cuthbert's; nave and chancel c. 1170, rebuilt c. 1220; E. window c. 1280; S. wall and door pulled down and S. aisle built with new N. and W. windows, c. 1350; arcades removed 1834; rebuilt 1870-71 with old Norman chancel-arch. E.E. piscina, lancets etc. re-used; old N. door used for the coal-cellar (J. A. Cory, O.S. iii, 31) . 11th or 12th cent. coped tombstone. Three fragments of graveslabs. Ancient yew.

Domestic :

- (a) Arkleby Hall, early 18th cent. of Thompsons.
- (b) Ward Hall, site, 1m. S.W. of Plumbland church.
- (c) Dovecot on Parsonby green, ? early 16th cent. (R. S. Ferguson, O.S. ix, 425).

See Pastscape for much more detail on these and more entries (21 in total – though there may be some overlap with other townships).